1

Preamble

Through this Sustainable Procurement Charter (hereinafter the “Charter”) Ayvens wants to associate its suppliers in the implementation of due diligence measures as part of its Sustainability Policy.

Its purpose is to inform suppliers:

- on one hand, about Ayvens’ commitments to its suppliers in terms of responsible procurement;
- on the other hand, about Ayvens’ expectations towards its suppliers regarding abidance by the basic principles.

The mutual commitments laid out hereinafter are based on:

- the fundamental principles of the UN Global Compact, which Ayvens, as part of Société Générale Group, has adhered to, in the field of human rights, working conditions, the environment and the fight against corruption.
- and on the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, which specify the modalities for the respect of human rights by enterprises.

The suppliers' ability to commit and to translate these commitments into appropriate practices is part of the evaluation criteria chosen by Ayvens for the whole term of the relationship with its suppliers.

2

Ayvens' Commitments to Suppliers

Fairness, Ethics and Transparency

Ayvens undertakes to:

- Ensure fairness in the supplier selection process by establishing the conditions for loyal competition and fair treatment of suppliers.
- Fight against all forms of corruption, active or passive, and avoid any situation where there may be a conflict of interest by abiding by the compliance rules in force in their company.
- Ensure transparency and compliance with the rules relating to the selection processes by providing clear preliminary information to the bidders regarding the terms and conditions applicable to any competitive process.

Mutual dependence

Ayvens undertakes to:

- Be vigilant about the risk of mutual dependence with their suppliers.
- Implement measures to detect, monitor and minimize risk.

Compliance with payment deadlines

Ayvens recalls the obligation to pay its suppliers in accordance with the law in force in the countries where it operates.

Confidentiality and intellectual property

Ayvens undertakes to establish a sustainable relationship based on mutual trust with its suppliers, by ensuring the strict confidentiality of the information that is not public which they are transmitted, and the intellectual property rights of its suppliers, in compliance with applicable laws.

Small and medium-sized suppliers

Ayvens shall endeavor to adapt its practices to facilitate access for these businesses to its competitive calls.

Use of mediation

Ayvens undertakes to offer its suppliers the possibility to use mediation to facilitate amicable settlement of any dispute which may arise during the term of a contract.

3

Suppliers' commitments

Environment

Ayvens requires that its suppliers undertake to:

- Comply with the environmental laws and regulations in force in the countries where they operate.
- Control and/or minimize the impacts of their activities on the environment, regarding consumption (water, energy, and raw materials), greenhouse gas emissions, pollution (water, soil, air) and waste (selective sorting, recycling).
- Set near and long-term Greenhouse Gas reduction targets to reach Net Zero carbon emissions by 2050 at the latest, and contribute to limiting the global warming of the planet to 1.5 °C.
- Develop environmentally friendly technologies by limiting the environmental impact of the products and services over their whole life cycle.
- Provide circular economy solutions and apply circular economy strategy to reduce their environmental impact

Human rights and labour law

Ayvens requires that its suppliers undertake to implement the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. These Principles clarify the modalities of compliance, regardless of the countries where they operate, with the principles of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (enacted by the UNO in 1948) and the Conventions of the International Labour Organisation (ILO) referred to in the appendix, including:

- The prohibition of forced or compulsory labor and ill-treatment of their employees. This includes the prohibition of any practice of modern slavery and trafficking in human beings¹
- The abolition of child labour.
- The absence of discrimination: there must be no distinction, exclusion or preference based on color, gender, age, language, religion, sexual orientation, or identity, national or social origin, opinion, or handicap.
- Compliance with health and safety requirements by providing their employees with a safe and proper work environment and conditions.
- Allocation of decent salary and working hours by paying a minimum wage that is sufficient to meet basic needs and compliant with the regulations in force in the countries where they operate, as regards working hours and rest breaks.
- Respect freedom of expression, the right to organize and the right to collective bargaining.

Business ethics

Ayvens requires that its suppliers undertake to abide by the laws and regulations relating to the principle of loyalty in force in the countries where it operates. It covers:

- Fight against corruption in all its forms, including extortion and bribery.
- Prohibition of all forms of anti-competitive practices (illegal agreements, abuse of a dominant position which may prevent, restrict, or distort an effective competitive process).
- Compliance with the rules governing the confidentiality of information that is not publicly transmitted by the Signatories and the intellectual property rights.
- When processing the personal data of Ayvens' s clients, drivers and employees the Supplier shall respect the individuals' right to privacy and adhere to the applicable laws.

Sub-contracting

Ayvens requires that its suppliers undertake to:

- Promote and ensure compliance with the principles of the charter by their suppliers and subcontractors.
- Implement a monitoring system enabling them to prevent and deal with any risk having an environmental and/or social impact across the whole supply chain.

Progress approach

Ayvens requires that its suppliers undertake to implement progress plans regarding their social and environmental practices, and to transmit them.

Monitoring implementation of the Charter

Ayvens requires that their suppliers undertake to supply, at any time, documentary evidence of compliance with the principles laid out above and to welcome auditors (internal or external) commissioned by Ayvens to verify compliance with the Charter.
